Promoting news literacy, protecting the First Amendment, and enhancing the quality, role and capabilities of community newspapers and community journalists
The National Newspaper Association Foundation is a non-profit trade association representing the owners, publishers and editors of America’s community newspapers. NNAF is a sister organization of the National Newspaper Association.

NNA’s mission is to protect, promote and enhance America’s community newspapers. The association, which is the largest national newspaper association with 1,500+ members across America, protects community newspapers through active and effective government relation programs that address the issues affecting community newspapers.

Beginning in 2021, NNA is sharpening its focus on public policy, while many of the organization’s familiar resources and programs will now be delivered via NNAF, including the Publishers’ Auxiliary magazine, Pub Aux Live webinars, Better Newspaper Contest and Annual Convention and Trade Show.

The change allows NNAF to serve the interests of community journalism and deliver on its mission to provide citizens with the civic knowledge that sustains democracy and binds communities with common purpose.

At the 2020 virtual convention, NNA members got their first taste of a new way to discover resources and tools to maximize their success in a Zoom setting. Based on the overwhelmingly positive feedback from members and sponsors alike, in 2021, we’re evolving the concept into a regular series. Sponsors will have the opportunity to participate in a webinar showcasing their best ideas for topics like Building Revenue, Pandemic Survival, Sales Solutions, etc. The schedule will be developed based on demand and interest; sponsors are invited to contribute topic ideas.

Each presenter will have 10 minutes to deliver their message, as well as an opportunity to respond to questions in a public format during a Q&A session.
